

On-Track Academy

An innovative educational experience for students with learning differences

Each child is unique, just like our academy day program

An expansion of On-Track Tutoring's long-running homeschooling support program, we provide students who may struggle in more traditional settings with the necessary tools and confidence to achieve success. We accomplish this through individualized instruction, sensitivity to various learning styles, multisensory methodologies and experiential curriculum. To cultivate each student's love of learning, our academic environment is nurturing and constructive, and is supported by an extensive, knowledgeable team of collaborative professionals who are teachers and mentors.

On-Track's expert educators provide customized learning solutions, academic support and mentorship so that struggling students can attain academic success.

Students believe they can learn and are motivated to persevere.

Reputation. Research. Results.

One-on-One and Small Groups, Because Individualized Attention Works

Each On-Track Academy student works one-on-one with his or her teacher(s) and in flexible groupings according to grade, ability and/or needs in order to maximize individualized attention and instruction.

Academic Instruction Designed for Success On-Track Tutoring has built its reputation by employing only outstanding educators and using state-of-the-art curriculum. In our academy program, parents expect the same high standards and proven outcomes, and we deliver. Dana Herzberg, M.Ed., On-Track's President & Educational Consultant, holds degrees in Special Education and Curriculum and Instruction. Dana's continual, extensive research of strategies and curriculum allows On-Track to bring the best teaching and learning methods to our students. Using a combination of the most successful, research-based curricula in order to customize each student's learning plan ensures that every student receives exactly what he or she needs in order to be a successful learner.

What We Teach Core subjects (math, science, language arts, and social studies) are supplemented by creative arts and technology. In addition, executive function skills (which enable planning, organization, initiation, attention and other high-level abilities) are integrated into instruction. Physical education, an optional part of our program, takes place off-site through a unique partnership with several nearby fitness facilities. P.E. activities such as swimming, ice skating and sports training occur as often as four times per week. Speech/Language and Occupational Therapy services (provided by third-party therapists) are offered weekly on-site.

Flexible Options Some students, such as traveling athletes, actors, and others needing to graduate middle or high school on time or early, benefit from the flexibility of online correspondence courses. In conjunction with renowned, accredited independent study programs, students receive direct one-on-one instruction and support, complete online assignments and take proctored exams. Students work at their own pace and complete individual courses in as little as four-to-six weeks.
